SMALL BUSINESS SUCCESS

Mandy Bass, Leadership and Sales Speaker

As one of the first female success coaches in the country, Mandy has helped thousands of clients navigate through the turbulent waters of business and life for over twenty years. What she didn't know was how important these skills would be in saving herself.

On February 7, 2016 she suffered a brutal attack on her life when a college student broke into her home in a drug-induced rage and nearly beat her to death. Against all odds, she got herself back on her feet and rebuilt her business and her life. Within six months of returning to work, she grew her income from zero to 6 figures using the same sales, marketing and mindset strategies she teaches her clients.

Mandy shares lessons she learned from the attack and her journey through healing – both for herself and the man who attacked her – in her book, Taming The Tokolosh: Through Fear Into Healing. The principles she developed as a result of her experience helped to restore her own life and helped numerous clients transform their lives.

Mandy Bass is an expert in understanding and influencing the human mind. She speaks to business leaders and professionals who want to improve sales, productivity, teamwork, customer satisfaction and profitability.

With over a dozen audio programs to her credit, Mandy is the inspirational force behind thousands of successful professionals. Mandy has been featured on The Today Show with Megyn Kelly and in People Magazine. She has shared the stage with Wayne Dyer, Deepak Chopra, Greg Braden and other world-famous thought leaders.

Mandy speaks to small business owners, entrepreneurs, business leaders, sales professionals, experts, coaches, women's groups, financial advisors and insurance agents.
